¹ Components may not sum to total because of rounding.

² Monthly and quarterly data include the revolving funds of provinces, salary and fringe benefits of employees in provinces, and expenses. The discrepancy between the figure for the operating balance with the "revenues" and "expenses" figures is due to the fact that as of 1401, the operating balance has been calculated with the inclusion of the amount of payment on legal commitments, which has not been mentioned in this table.

³ Monthly and quarterly data include the revolving fund (credits for the acquisition of non-financial assets).

Monetary and Credit Policies in 1403, Q3 (September 22, 2024-December 20, 2024)

- In the third quarter of 1403 (September 22, 2024-December 20, 2024), the CBI continued with its regular policy of conducting the Open Market Operations (OMOs) and providing standing facilities to banks (as two monetary policy tools), with the aim of managing liquidity and adjusting the interest rate with the targeted policy rate in the interbank market. Accordingly, based on its forecasts for Q3, the CBI took measures to inject liquidity in the interbank market, using the OMOs carried through scheduled weekly auctions in the form of repurchase agreements (repos).
- In order to achieve the target of broad money growth at 23.0 percent (with a standard deviation of 2.0 percentage points) for 2024/2025, the CBI put on its agenda the control of broad money growth and inflation within the framework of the key strategy of "surge in production through people's participation". This was in line with the implementation of certain regulatory policies including the prudential policy of limiting growth in banks' and credit institutions' balance sheets as well as imposing penalties on banks and credit institutions violating the permissible monthly amount of the increase in their assets and liabilities through raising the reserve requirement ratio. However, in line with the CBI's implementation of support policies in addressing the government's initiatives through lowering reserve requirement ratios for Gharz-al-hasaneh marriage facilities, broad money growth was realized 1.8 percentage points higher than the target.
- ➤ Considering the impact of the development of digital currencies on the acceleration of liquidity circulation, and the effectiveness of monetary policies as regards controlling inflation and various markets, the CBI proposed a regulatory mechanism for digital assets. On this basis, the CBI's Supreme Council introduced and approved the "Policymaking and Regulatory Framework for Cryptocurrencies" in Q3, in full compliance with Articles (4), (24), (59), and (64) of the Law of the Central Bank of Iran approved on June 20, 2023.
- The CBI put on its agenda the formulation of guidelines on the performance of specialized banks, the enhancement of banks' capacity to extend loans through the capital increase of banks by end-1403 (March 2025), and the disbursement of facilities through mobilizing provincial resources. The CBI also devised a policy package worth 2,000 trillion rials to provide the required liquidity for production units.
- The CBI's credit policies in Q3 included the formulation of the technical-operational draft of the guideline on setting credit ceilings for applicants of checkbooks without incurring any damage to business enterprises and production units. The CBI also paved the way for the building of the necessary infrastructure for the issuance of digital signature certificates (DSCs) as of November 10, 2024, enabling the extension of digital checkbooks to legal persons. There was also noticeable growth in facilities disbursed to knowledge-based companies as well as in Gharz-al-hasaneh marriage and childbearing facilities compared with the respective period in the year before.

Moreover, the first phase of the plan to connect Iran's SHETAB payment system to the Russian national card payment system (MIR) was initiated, allowing Iranian tourists to withdraw cash from ATMs in Russia. Accordingly, eight Iranian banks were linked to the Russian card payment network by November 12, 2024. The CBI also communicated the instructions on operational and executive procedures for transferring GAM papers (Generative Credit Certificates for the interest-free short-term financing of producers, businesses, and legal entities purchasing goods and services) to the capital market in compliance with the latest amendments to the "Guideline for Acceptance and Trading of GAM Papers", aiming to create procedural uniformity and transparency within the banking network, effective November 13, 2024.
